Local Jet Maker Soars

Carlsbad-based jet maker, Spectrum Aeronautical, recently received a significant fleet order from Jetpool of North Carolina for their Independence and Freedom model jets. The company will begin assembling the aircraft with deadline dates of 2009 and 2010, respectively. Both crafts feature Spectrum Aeronautical's signature Fibex composite material technology, resulting in weights 40 percent lighter than other similar models. Jetpool's CEO Ryan Stone said his company chose Spectrum Aerospace after an extensive search for the right developer. (www.spectrum.aero) — Ryan Thomas
